

Prayer to pray over a teen girl (adapted from Becoming a Modern Day Princess journal)

“You are a Daughter of the King
my true Modern Day Princess.”

*My Precious Daughter,
Before the foundation of the world,
I knew I was going to create you to be fearfully and wonderfully made, and you are!*

I placed you in your mother's womb and have ordained all of your days. I have chosen for you to live in this generation because you have been born for such a time as this.

As the world is now acknowledging you as young woman, so am I. You'll always be my little girl that I have taken such joy in and are the apple of my eye. Feel free to continue, as you did when you were a little girl, to come into my presence seeking my love and protection, which I will always show and provide for you, because you are mine!

I delight in your beauty both within and without. I chose you to be a woman because you reflect many of my character traits shown through your spirit of kindness, compassion and you have my intuitive spirit.

My mercy and compassion for you is new every day. I love it when you awake and I am the first one you greet. I always love it when you choose to be in my presence and I delight in answering your prayers according to the plans I have made for you that will be accompanied with hope.

I want you to fully put your trust in me because I have engraved you on the palms of my hands. When you seek me and my will I will take care of all of your needs. Watch me supply all of your needs according to my endless riches in heaven.

I desire for you to experience the joy of walking in my divine grace and favor and that as you draw your strength from my unlimited power you have more than you need to excel in all that you have been called by me to accomplish. I have not given you a spirit of fear, but of power, love and a sound mind because of your choice to embrace my son, and your savior, Jesus Christ into your life.

Remember, you can do all things through Christ who strengthen you. When you give generously, as a Princess will be called to do, my blessings will be pressed down, shaken together and overflowing back to you. Test Me and see if I won't throw open the floodgates of heaven, pouring out so much blessing that you wouldn't be able to contain it. I am more than able to provide all of your needs according to my unlimited riches in glory.

I will be there when you have moments of disappointment and doubt bringing you hope and healing because I am near to the brokenhearted. It is my deepest desire for you to be blessed all the days of your life as you embrace the Holy Spirit, that I have given you to dwell within you until you and I meet face-to-face one day in the place I have prepared for you here in Heaven.

Remember, I will never leave you nor forsake you. My love for you will endure forever. I delight in answering your prayers. Be assured I will never forget anything you ask of me - I will answer with my very best in my perfect timing for you.

Oh my precious and beautiful Daughter I am looking forward to all that you are experience as woman and my Princess in the years to come. I delight in knowing that as you make your plans I am going to be watching every step and I will be rejoicing over with you singing as you fulfill your passion and purpose of your life.

Let's celebrate and stay in step together as you embark in this amazing exciting adventure called life.

*With all my love,
Your trustworthy, faithful and loving Daddy,
your Papa, your Heavenly Father*
